

Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr

Have you heard of Ramadan or Eid al-Fitr?

What do you know about them?

Talk to a friend about your thoughts and ideas.

What Is Ramadan?

Ramadan is a special time for Muslim people.
It is celebrated during the ninth month of the Islamic calendar.

Click on the pictures below to find out more about what Muslims do during the month of Ramadan.

give up bad habits

do good deeds

pray five times a day

read the Qur'an

fast during daylight

What Is Eid al-Fitr?

Eid al-Fitr is a special celebration at the end of Ramadan.

Eid al-Fitr means 'The Festival of Breaking of the Fast'.

Fasting during Ramadan means that healthy adults do not eat between sunrise and sunset.

Do you think fasting would be difficult?

Eid al-Fitr starts when a new moon is seen in the sky.

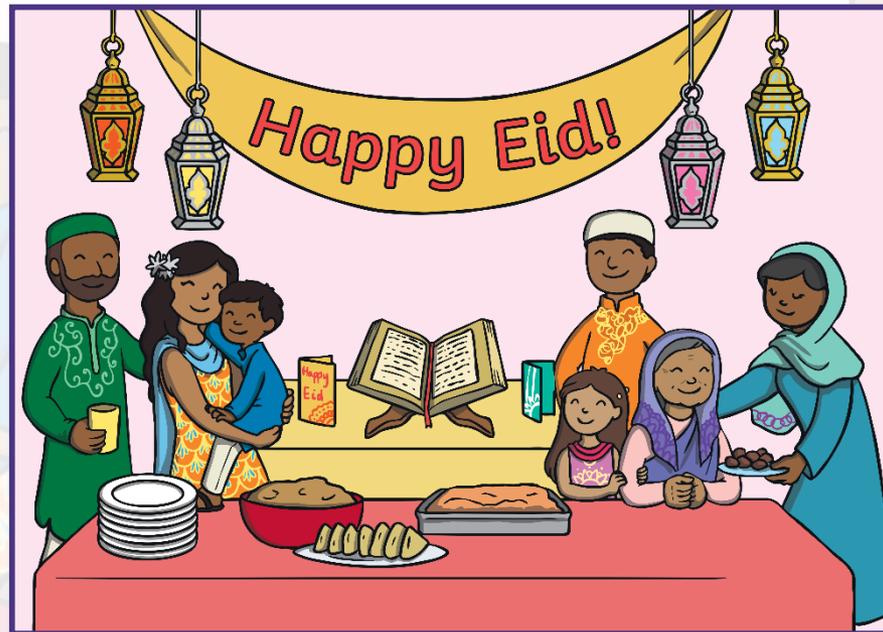

A new moon is when the moon looks like a very thin crescent shape.

Celebrating Eid al-Fitr

Eid al-Fitr celebrations lasts for around 3 days.

Families and friends celebrate together.

Many Muslims give food or donations to charity and those in need, during Eid al-Fitr.

Muslim people wear their best clothes and decorate their homes.

Photo courtesy of Step (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence – attribution

There are special prayers in mosques.

Photo courtesy of Jordi Bernabeu (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

Muslim people eat delicious food with their families.

Photo courtesy of cawanpink (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

They give gifts to their friends and family.

Photo courtesy of Sirah Quyyom (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence – attribution

They read the Qur'an every day.

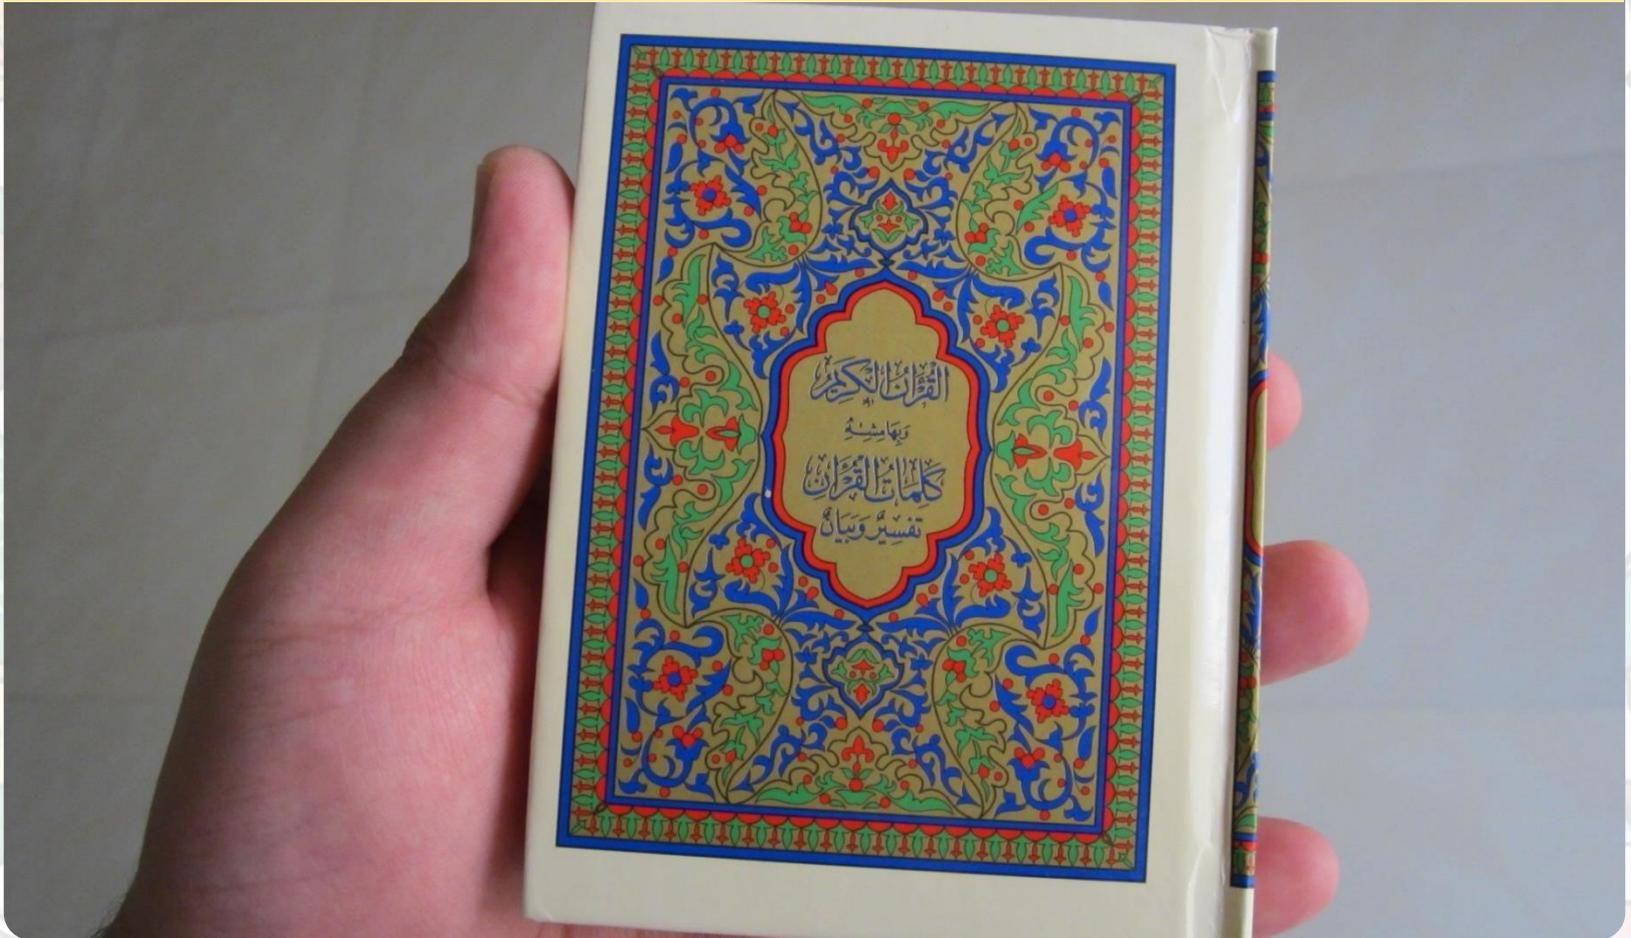

Photo courtesy of Abdulla Al Muhairi (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence – attribution

Women and girls decorate their hands with mehndi patterns. Mehndi is made from crushed henna leaves mixed with oil and other liquids, such as lemon juice, water or tea.

Photo courtesy of Bhakti Henna (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence - attribution

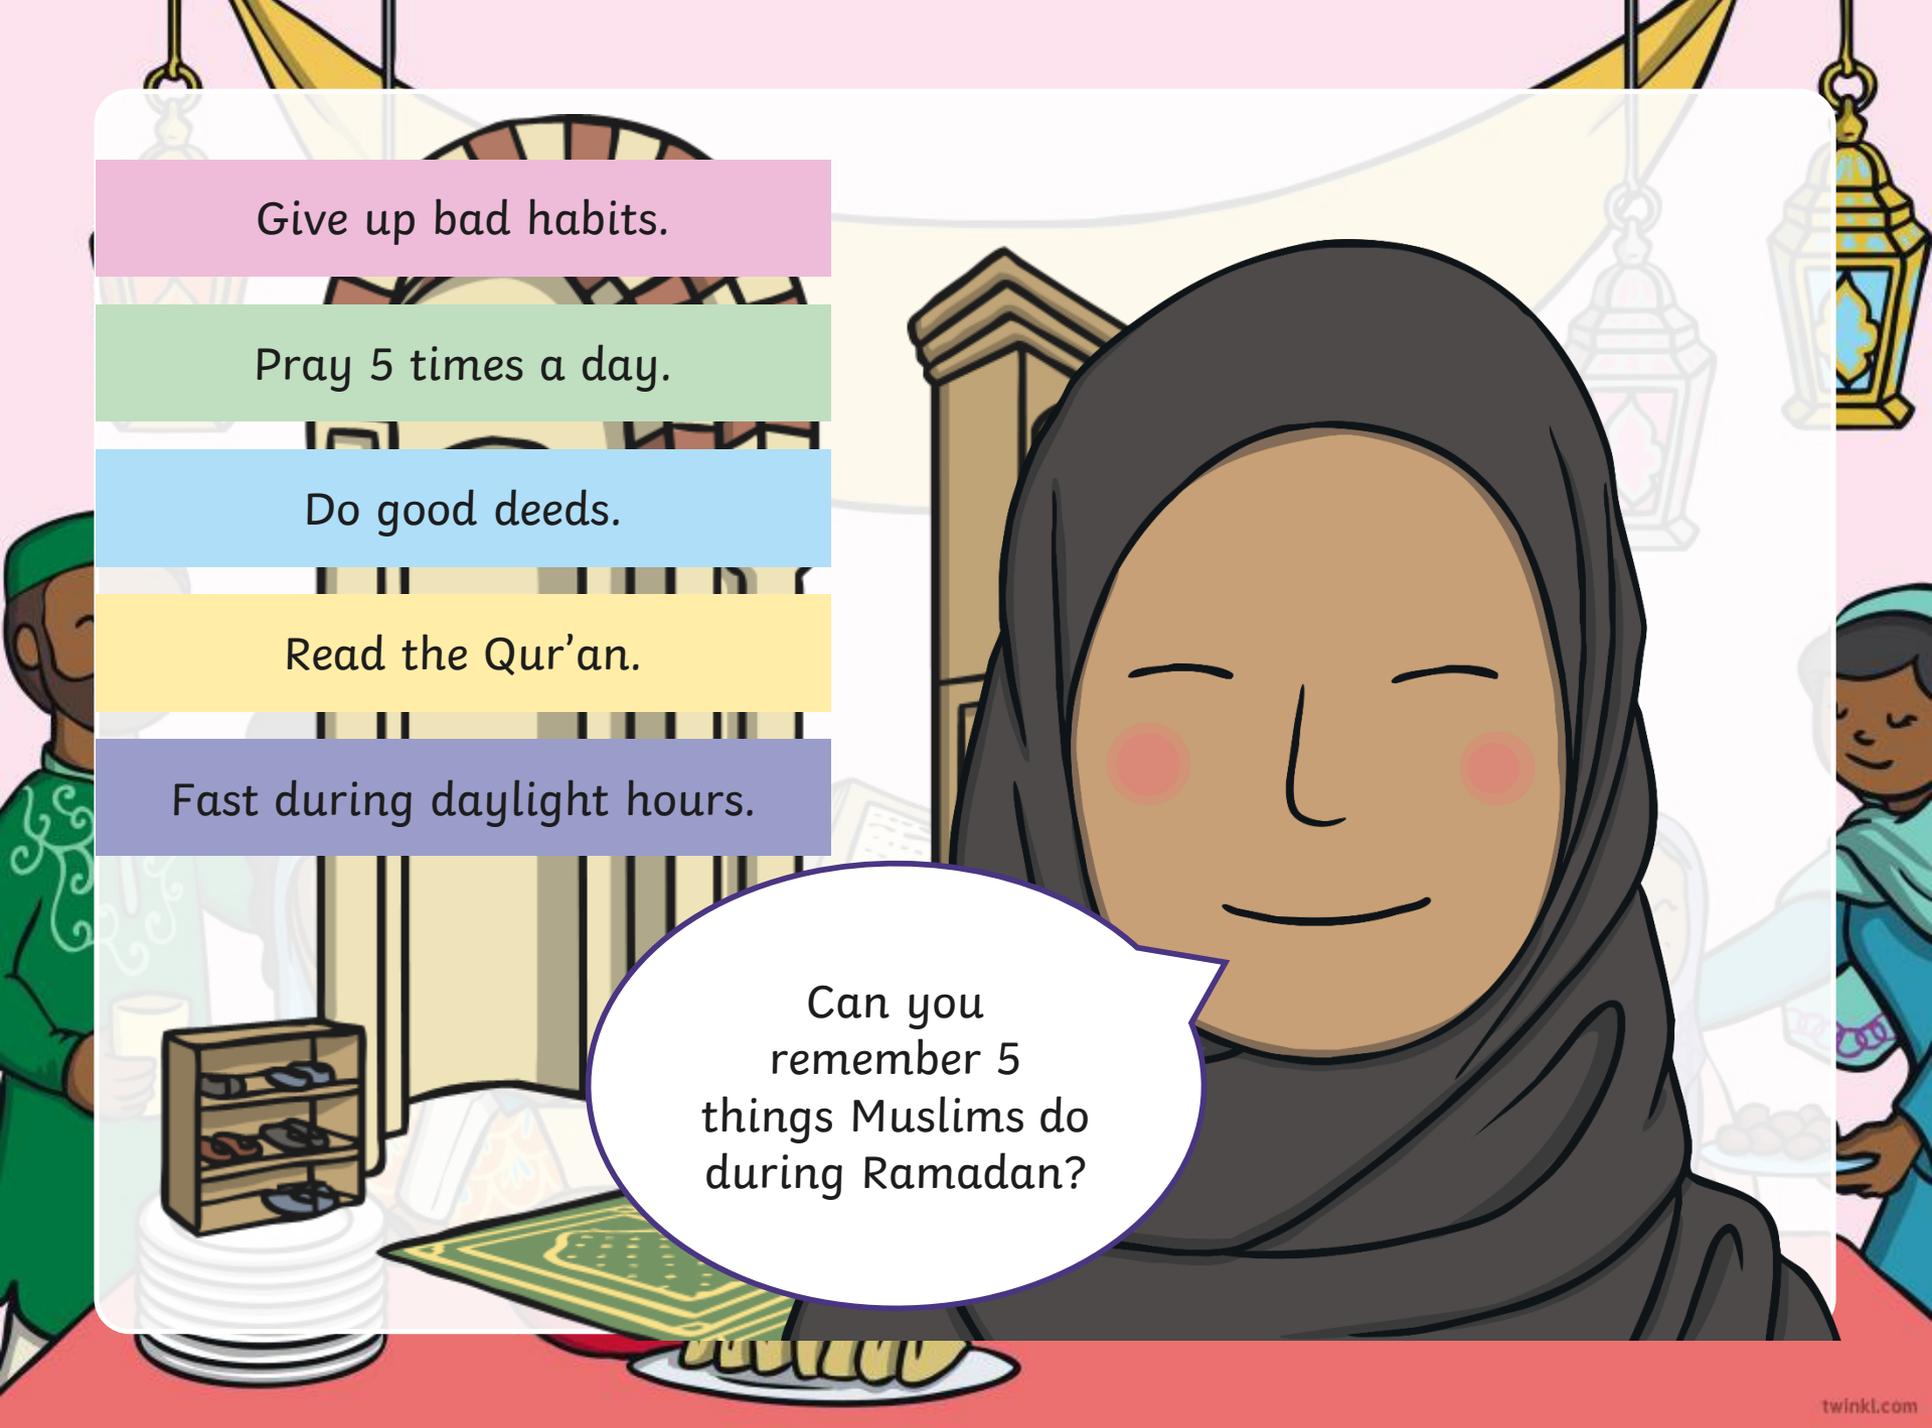

Muslim people thank Allah for the strength that he has given them to have self-control during Ramadan.

Photo courtesy of Global Journalist (@flickr.com) - granted under creative commons licence – attribution

Try this quiz to see how much you can remember about Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr.

Give up bad habits.

Pray 5 times a day.

Do good deeds.

Read the Qur'an.

Fast during daylight hours.

Can you remember 5 things Muslims do during Ramadan?

A thin crescent shape. It is a new moon.

What shape is the moon at the start of Eid?

The illustration features a woman in a grey hijab with a neutral expression and rosy cheeks. A white speech bubble with a purple outline is positioned in front of her. The background is a vibrant scene of Eid al-Fitr celebrations, including a woman in a green dress, a woman in a blue dress, a stack of white plates, a wooden tray with shoes, and a green prayer mat. A large red banner is overlaid on the top half of the image.

For 3 days.

How long do Eid al-Fitr celebrations last?

Muslim people make donations to charity, wear their best clothes and decorate their homes. They also give gifts, eat delicious food, read the Qur'an, go to the mosque, pray five times a day and women and girls paint mehndi patterns on their hands.

How is Eid al-Fitr celebrated?
Can you remember three things?

twinkl

Happy Eid